SOME BOTTLES WE ARE VIBING ON FOR A TOWER THIS WEEK:

Extra Brut, Blanc de Blancs Grand Cru, Tèthys, Guiborat, NV....$75
100% Chardonnay from 5 organically farmed parcels in the Côte de Blancs. Fermented in steel, no malo, and 30 months on the lees. This wine has great chalky finesse, a suave mid-palate, and a racy close.

Extra Brut, Le Cran, Bérèche & Fils, 2012.....$160
The wine is about equal parts Chardonnay and Pinot Noir sourced from 2 chalky mid-slope parcels. Primary fermentation is in barrel and aging is under cork, both of which lend to its power and texture. Le Cran is powerfully mineral with length and an expansive complexity that's nothing short of remarkable.

Domaine de Bellevue (Jérôme Bretaudeau), Gaïa, 2015.....$60
The grapes are sourced from a tiny 1.5-hectare parcel which is biodynamically farmed and planted in the 1940s. The wine is aged for 4 months in oval (ovoïde) cement egg, which broadens the texture of the wine. This wine with its citrus and orchard fruit and brine will keep evolving in your glasses.

Aligoté, Domaine Dureuil-Janthial, 2017.....$47
Vincent Dureuil is one of the best winemakers in Burgundy...period. He has been farming organically for over 15 years and this Aligoté is made from a tiny one-acre vineyard parcel. It exudes all of the qualities that we love in Aligoté, like zesty lemony fruit and notes of crisp green almonds. It is bracingly bright and stellar with oysters.
